Full Program Overview

ACAW 2008 | New York

46 NYC Museums and galleries celebrate Asian Contemporary Art

Saturday, March 15 - Monday, March 24, 2008

On behalf of Asian Contemporary Art Consortium (ACAC), I am pleased to invite you to Asian Contemporary Art Week, 2008. Over 100 artists present their works at 60 special events, including receptions, exhibition-viewings, screenings, artists' conversations and walkthroughs at 46 galleries and museums across New York City. Since its inception in 2001, ACAW has been recognized as an important event responding to the continuous and rising public interest and demand for knowledge about artists producing works both inside and outside of Asia.

The success of the week can be measured by the incredibly diverse and broad array of presenting venues, as well as an ever-expanding list of artists from almost every region of Asia. China, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, Vietnam, Thailand, India, Pakistan, Indonesia, Iran, Afghanistan, Uzbekistan, Tajikistan, Kyrgyzstan and Kazakhstan, and for the first time, the Middle East: Lebanon, Palestine and Israel. In its fifth year, ACAW launches a series of talks to highlight the week entitled Artists in Conversation.

Nominated by a number of art experts from the region, over 75 leading and emerging artists submitted their portfolios from which 25 were selected by the ACAC to speak about their works and concepts at participating venues. Don't miss the chance to get up close and personal with the best of the best in Asian art today!

"Since the first Asian Contemporary Art Week held in 2002, there has been a dramatic increase in awareness of Asian contemporary art and we like to believe this initiative has contributed to this fact," notes Asia Society Museum Director Melissa Chiu. "The ACAW Consortium feels that as general knowledge spreads, there is a need for more focused education and so this year, there is an increased emphasis on public programs involving the artists during the week."

Featured artists hail from China, Japan, Korea, Taiwan, Vietnam, Thailand, India, Pakistan, Indonesia, Iran, Afghanistan, Uzbekistan, Tajikistan, Kyrgyzstan, Kazakhstan and, for the first time, from the Middle East: Lebanon, Palestine and Israel.

New to this year's ACAW format is Artists in Conversation, a series of talks given by 35 leading and emerging artists who speak about their works and share their concepts and inspirations. To match an exploding interest in Asian art—as manifested in the international art market—the ACAW Consortium chose to present and highlight the work of both leading and emerging Asian artists. The many public programs allow the artists to speak about their works, inspirations and processes. ACAW seeks to present a balance of artists who are succeeding in the market with those who are at the forefront in biennales and other international forums, and whose work is very relevant in the global arena.

Participating artists are from the U.S. and abroad, and include recognized names such as Akram Zaatari from Lebanon, Lin Yilin from China and currently based in Brooklyn, Navin Rawanchaikul of Thailand, Byron Kim, an Asian American artist based in New York and Ranbir Kaleka from India. Not as well-known in the U.S. but established in Asia and Europe are the artists Tie Ying and Xu Zhongmin, both from Beijing, who will kick off the week with a conversation at Sotheby's on Saturday, March 15 from 3-7pm.

ACAW events are organized each day around neighborhood location with events held uptown on Tuesday, March 18, midtown on Wednesday, March 19, in Chelsea on Thursday, March 20, downtown on Friday, March 21. Saturday, March 22 is divided amongst the boroughs with events planned in Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens. The week closes Monday, March 24, with a 6:30 p.m. panel discussion at Asia Society on India's burgeoning contemporary art scene.

Asian Contemporary Art Week is a collaboration of the Asian Contemporary Art Consortium, which includes: Jung Lee Sanders, Art Projects International; Melissa Chiu and Miwako Tezuka, Asia Society and Museum; Steve Pacia and Shumita Bose, Bose Pacia; France Pepper, China Institute; Ethan Cohen, Ethan Cohen Fine Arts; Michael Goedhuis, Goedhuis Contemporary; Joe Earle, Japan Society; Philippe Koutouzis, Marlborough Gallery; Esa Epstein, Sepia International/The Alkazi Collection; Alexandra Munroe and Sandhini Poddar, Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum; and Jack & Susy Wadsworth, Collectors.

ACAW 2008 is sponsored by Art Asia Pacific, Fora.tv, Sotheby's and Art Radio WPS1.org.

Viswanadhan

Works 1968-2007 illustrates Viswanadhan's creative journey in simplification and sublimation of matter. In the context of contemporary Indian art, often concerned by mediatic realism, Viswanadhan stands out as a unique artist. He draws from the Vedas as much as Plato's philosophy, seeking the mysterious and miraculous affinity between Western abstraction and Tantric art. He will be in conversation with art critic Louise Nicholson.

Hyungkoo Lee

An extension of his show at the Korean Pavilion for the 2007 Venice Biennale, Hyungkoo Lee's Animatus features remarkably realistic skeletal reconstructions of familiar, yet imaginary cartoon characters. Much like a scientist, the artist begins with virtual two-dimensional images, designing the underlying anatomical structure to arrive at a three-dimensional skeleton.

521 W. 25th St. 2nd Fl.
(Bet. 10th and 11th Ave.)

THUR. MARCH 20

Hyungkoo Lee, Anas Animatus, 2006. Sculptures.

BOSE PACIA

6–8PM Opening Reception

Ranbir Kaleka: New Works

The Delhi-based artist became well known in the 1990s for his brilliant expressionist paintings and gained subsequent international recognition for synthesizing paintings with video projections at the 2005 Venice Biennale. Kaleka's 2nd solo show at Bose Pacia features an exciting new series, and a talk by the artist on Saturday, March 22.

508 W. 26th St. 11th FL
(Bet. 10th and 11th Ave.)

THUR. MARCH 20

Shi Jinsong, Ne Zha Kid's Boutique, 2008. Sculptural installation.

CHAPPELL GALLERY

6–8PM Opening Reception

Refractivelocity

For Toshio Iezumi, the process is the defining moment. He creates his own stone from cumulative layers of sheet glass, which he grinds and polishes into abstract forms that refract and reflect light to appear sensuous and deceptively soft “like tofu”. Light traveling through the layers creates mesmerizing patterns, which vary with the viewer’s stance.

SNAKE ALLEY: Group Exhibition of Cutting Edge Taiwanese Contemporary Art

Wanhua district is home to Taipei's most historic and religious monument, its red light district and the Snake Alley, a tourist attraction where live animals in small cages were displayed until the late 1990s. For years, Wanhua has been a conceptual zone for artists explorations. The exhibition features Taiwan's many prominent artists negotiating their nation's epic economic changes in the past few decades and reconciling those changes at times with a troubling past.

Back to the Garden: New Visions of 8 Contemporary Artists

Curated by Luchia M. H. Lee. An alternative manifesto: "Do not let the city space be handed to commercial advertisements alone; yet do not scorn Pop-Art, for it is the art most frequently presented to the people. Let art go forward from the museums into the open air. Do not let high art be absent from public spaces in the city. Let the mall turn out to be an art museum without walls."

ArtAsiaPacific

ArtAsiaPacific magazine is the leading English-language periodical covering contemporary art and culture from the Middle East and Asia-Pacific. Published six times a year, AAP includes features, profiles, essays and reviews by experts from all over the world. AAP's website offers up-to-the minute news reports, extracts from current and past issues of the magazine, as well as supplementary and exclusive multimedia content.

FORA.tv

FORA.tv was formed in 2005 to produce and distribute videos on the most compelling public conversations regarding issues and ideas that matter. It was dissolved in 2018. Its early impact is evident from its 2009 recognition by TIME magazine as one of the "50 Best Websites of 2009."^{[1][2]} The company served more than 500 organizations, including leading media organizations and academic institutions

Sotheby's

In recent years, the radical transformation of China and the economic development of the Asian region have brought the eyes of the world to its emerging markets. In recognition of these developments, Sotheby's is pleased to launch a department focused on the outstanding work being produced by today's Chinese, Japanese, and Korean artists.

WPS1 Art Radio

WPS1 Art Radio is the Internet station of P.S.1 Contemporary Art Center, a MoMA affiliate, featuring an MP3 stream of music, talk, and historical recordings and a free on-demand archive of over 1200 programs. In 2019, Asia Contemporary Art Week (ACAW) updated its name to Asia Contemporary Art Forum (ACAF) to reflect nearly two decades of programmatic evolution and growth. In 2014, the "n" was dropped from "Asian" in the organization's name to emphasize Asia as an expansive and inclusive artistic state of mind, transcending geographical and national boundaries.
